OUR COUNTRY'S STORM.

BY &. W. CUTTER. A cloud our land is gath'ring o'er, A cloud of sombre dye; While oh Atlantic's teeming shore, Is beard a sullen cry.

A sound has come from Charleston Bay, It bodes a fearful storm; The North replies, she'll us'er give way, Nor bow her mighty form. She will arise with gallant front,

To breast the stormy lea: She will withstand the Southern brunt, And fight the Union free. This land shall not be rent in twain. By any slave curs'd hand; Even with blood our soil we'll stain, To have the Union stand.

We'll battle for our own true flag, We'll fight for ev'ry star; In town, on plain, or bestled crag, Our cause we'll thunder far.

That star-gem'd flag has stood on high, Through long and weary fight; And it shall forever grace the sky, While men acknowledge right. The Rallway. SANDUSEY, MARSFIELD AND NEWARK RAIL-

These characters will be so illustrated as to be profitable to all who may desire to hear.

THE MINSTERLS .- Another crowded house last night attested the favor in which Wilson & Morris' Minstrels are held by the publie. The performance throughout was unexceptionable, the burlesque imitations of Charley Backus being particularly admirable. To-night this inimitable delineator takes a benefit, and a choice programme will be presented. Those who do not go will miss a treat indeed.

ME. PEASE THE PLANIST .- This gentleman is now in town, and has anew charmed and delighted his friends with his performance on the piano forte. His power over that in-strument is really wonderful. We heard him render a Fantasia of Thalberg's on airs from the Elixir of Love, and again in a sclendid concerto of Mendelsshou's, he displayed a genius which must put him high among pianists. As we have before announced, he is to give a concert in this city, which will occur on Thursday night next. At that time he will be assisted by Mrs. J. M. Mozart, a charge of adultery, and will have a hearing on Monday. They were arrested at a house on St. Clair street, while regaling themloist from Cleveland. 1862. - Ohio Statesman, Columbus, 17th. Capt. Sam. Whiting.

The Charleston correspondent of the New York Tribune has the following in regard to Capt. Samuel Whiting, commander of the U. S. mail steamer which was taken by the ion of the north part of ten acre lot No. 102, Rebels at Charleston, for the purpose of being turned into a war steamer. Many of our readers will remember Capt.

Whiting, as the poet sailor on our lakes. He was first mate of the old steamers Empire and Ohio, and lived in this city some twelve years ago. He accompanied Lieut, Harstein feet front on Wadsworth street and 90 feet when he went to the Arctic regions in search of Dr. Kane, and on his return he settled in Winons, Minnesots, and edited a paper for a while. Last summer he returned to his first love-a sailor's life.

Capt. Whiting has delivered several lectures on the Arctic regions, before different literary associations, which were highly spoken of by these who heard them :

"It seems that Capt. Whiting of the steam-er Marion, left here suddenly yesterday, not without good reason. I have it on good authority that, had he remained only a few hours longer, his leaving alive would have been a doubtful matter. I am assured that arrangements were in progress for lynching him-certainly for visiting him with great personal violence. This grew out of the fact that the captain is a sturdy Union man, which sentiment he uttered on all proper occasions, though never effensively. Added Thos. Moore Secretary.

The second secretary is the second secretary.

The second seco they should give a public expression of terrible was the blow, that the bones of on his last trip out of Charleston Harbor, on thanks to the proprietor of the Angier for the kind and courteous manner in which they had been treated by him, and of the less pieces. One eye seems to be entired which is and ever has been the private signal of the line in which is and ever has been the private signal of the line in which is and ever has been the private signal of the line in which the Marion sails, passing Fort Sumter, he set the Ame ly destroyed and the other nearly so, while the face was made one complete mass of Revolutionists, who with glasses, were watch resolved that there was no where in Ohio a broken and bruised flesh. Mr. Evans is hetter house than the Angier, or a more gen-suffering greatly, but is conscious of every suffering greatly and the suffering greatly and the suffering greatly are s more than all as evidence of a patriotic de-votion to the stars and stripes. This was Capt. Sam. Whiting's crime, for which his son and Steele are of the opinion that his life was threatened in Charleston yesterday, temperate habits and good physical condition may possibly carry him through.

The whole community sympathises despite the honor to him that he did not. I am the city. Nor did he disavow it; and more is the honor to him that he did not. Tam ly with our esteemed fellow citizen and his able to say that under circumstances calculated to try a man's backbone, he steadily but courteously refused unqualifiedly, to raise twing has been invited to lecture before this stars and stripes over the deck of his ship. For this he has probably lost his place; but what is of more consequence to him, he has preserved his heave and good name. I presume Capt. Whiting is in New York new; and I trust he will be remembered. If he is not at the New York Hotel, I presume inquiry there will lead to a knowledge of his whereabouts. Let me remark that Captain Sare. Whiting is not less a man of letters. the Homeless" on the 7th of March, Bunyan's Pingaix.—The next lecture in the course upon Bunyan's Pilgrim will be given 'o-morrow evening at Plymouth Church on Prespect street. The lecture will the less of the Chief officers under Capt. Harstein—who now has forsaken his country's flag and joined the disunionists—in the expedition that rescued Dr. Kane in the Polar regions. He has likewise served honorably in the country with the less of the Pilerim's editorial profession."

Duel in Piqua.-Two members of the City Council in Piqua had a dispute a few days ago, which resulted in a duel, with pistols, distance twenty-four feet. Neither was injured at the first fire and the parties then expressed themselves satisfied, shook hands and went home to dinner.
